GAIL HAMILTON, says a correspondent, is thirty nine. She looks considerably younger, however, owing to her small stature, expressive features, and vivacity of manner. Though plain, she is not at all homely, and I have heard parsons oall her handsome when her face is animated. She is a brilliant talker and a great social attraction at Sonator Blaine's Washington house, where the makes her home during the political season. The wife of Senttor Blaine is her cousin.

FROM all appearances it seems that the days of the French Republic are shout numbered. History is said to report itself every hundred years, but it will not wait one half that time to repost the story of 1848-52. The Prince Imperial, although but a boy when his illustrious father died, shows that he has not neglected to study the tauties that made Napoleon III. an Emperor. With patience he has waited for his opportunity, cultivating meanwhile the favor of the reigning powers in Europe, and gathering a libbs forces, so that when he loaps for the prize he may not fall short of the mark. Already it is said a conference has been held at Chiselburst in his interest. A correspondent of the New York Tribune graphically outlines the project He says that the advanced faction of the Monapartiets under the truckling to a mob, he would cortainly lead of Paul de Cassagnao has been in have an attack of the measles or some constant communication with the army other rash disease. CHICAGO, August 19.-A report was published then yesterday, by one of the morning propers, relative to the arrest of certain parties supposed to belong to a gang of fergers who had been operating extensively in this city, New York and other places. Inquiry of the officials here failed to elicit any definite facts, and the story was generally disoredited. It is now known that yesterday merning, Constable Hart-man arrested in this city two men named Weston and Gesner, on charge of forgery. It appears that these men. working in consession with a man semed Stayess and other socomplices throughout the country, have for some time been carrying on a system of for geries, from which they have received large sums of money. In January last the Third National Bank of New York was defrauded out of $27,000 by means of phocks purporting to here been drawa by Winslow Lanier & Co. About the same time a pheck for $40, 000, purporting to have been drawn by the New York-Life Inserance Compa There had been other similar open tions known; but never made public Representatives of the New Yor houses employed detectives to investi gate these forgeries, and they have Deen following up suspented parties for yeas, sline Henderson, who has been known bete as a speculator in grain and stooks. Arrested for Vagrancy.-For some timespast Marshal Pringle has been on the lookout for "Bill" McGinnis, whom he believed was lurking about with threvlah designs upon other people's goods and chattels. Yesterday he came acrors his man near the Wood street crossing of the lillness Central Railroad and took him in charge as a vagrant. McGlanis did not propose to go slong with the officer, and drew from his pocket s billy with which to resist in case the marshal undertook to put him into the calaboose. No sooner had he done this than the officer let fall upon his head asimilar wouton, the force of the blow bringing him down. He then got up and walked quietly along with Mr. Pringle until he got to South Main street, when he broke from the officer and started to run, but another blow from the official's billy brought blue to terms, and he was lodged this (Monday) evening at their armory. in the calaboose.

This morning he interviewed Justice Albert, who fined him ten dollars for vagrancy and five dollars for carrying concealed weapons. As the fellow had no movey, the court issued an execution for his return to the calaboosu.

A VOICE OF APPROVAL FROM

It seems that other towns are cognicant of what is going on in Decatur, and hose in official position elsewhere make haste to recognize praiseworthy acts on the part of our citizens. A instance of this is found in the case of Miss Mary A. West, superintendent of public instruction of Knox county, who, in commenting upon the late resignation of Mr Pickard as superintendent of schools in Chicago, and the influences which induced it, takes occasion in a commu nication to a Galuburg paper to contrast the bearing of the Decatur people toward their school superintendent with that of the Chicago people toward theirs, which the writer seems to think was such as to force his resignation. -Here is what she says In pleasing contrast to Obicago's treat ment of her noble superintendent is Decatur's treatment of Mr. Gastman For, we believe, seventeen years the School Board of Decatur has unanimously elected Mr. Gastman, and most nobly has he repaid the trust reposed in him. He has most thoroughly identified himself with the interests of Decatur as well as her schools, and no temptation has been strong enough to draw him. excellence of Abel & Locke's stock of has been strong enough to draw him has been strong enough to draw him away. Now that Dr. Sewali has left Normal, he has been elected to fill his place, but he will not desert the board and the In reply to a flattering letter from many one ne with nos desert the pourd and the citizens of that city, asking him to remain there, Mr. Gastman says And here follows the reply of Mr.

Gastman to the petitions of numerous citizens asking him to remain in Decatur, which need not be repeated here, as it is already fresh in the minds of our readers. The writer then proceeds in the following language, and her words are so pregnant with truth that we give them in full, continuing here allusion to both Decatur and Chicago, Miss West We believe that in ninety-nine cases
